2021 Congressional Voting Record

Historically Close Control in Both Chambers --- Democrats in the House and Senate continued introducing, debating, and at least trying to enact positive legislation to move our nation forward. The exceptionally close margins and ever increasing partisanship, however, limited those gains.

With our nation continuing to recover from the impacts of a global pandemic, Trump's "Big Lie", and an ever widening gaps accepting basic reality, attempts to legislate boiled down to a handful of votes and often painful compromises.

As you can see from the votes and scores, Congress remains divided along party and ideological lines in an increasingly fruitless way.

While the Democratic sweep in the 2020 elections did bring a more positive agenda, the above referenced environment often thwarted the reach of that agenda.

We must protect and expand democracy through the protection of voting rights, we must not become complacent in shining light on the dangers of the authoritarian tendencies of Trumpism, and we must enact relief for health, human services, and the economy to move into our new future. Do not let frustration or fatigue keep you silent in this moment. Vote! Take Action!

Notes:

This voting record is offered only as a guide in judging the legislative performance of Members of Congress, and has several inherent limitations. It does not measure a legislator's work in committees. It does not reflect the failure of Congress to deal with major issues, or the individual's degree of responsibility. Nor does it reflect a legislator's lifetime of work.

The methodology of the ADA Voting Record calls for Members who miss a vote, for whatever reason, to be penalized in their final score. Therefore, a Member who agreed with ADA's position on 19 votes but was absent on the 20th would receive a score of 95%. Several Members have special circumstances to consider in viewing their scores. The Speaker of the House often does not vote. Members that leave office due to death, appointment to other position, or early retirement will have no or an incomplete score. Their replacements, if any, fall into the same category. Additionally, Members that may have run for another office like President may have missed an unordinary number of votes altering their potential score.

Closely divided chambers create a larger number of party line votes and therefore more Heroes (100%) and Zeroes (0%) scores (Lists will be posted shortly!).

It's also worth noting that in our quest to measure Liberal vs. Conservative in our scoring, the environment not only makes that task more difficult but it also means that some of the highest profile votes may not make the cut for our use.

Key:

- + Voted with ADA's position
